

Once upon a time there was a little princess called Snow White, who had a cruel stepmother, the Queen, who was jealous of her.

The Queen had a magic mirror. She asked the mirror, "Mirror mirror on the wall, who is fairest of them all?"

The mirror always answered, "You are, my Queen."

But one day the mirror answered, "Snow White."

The evil Queen was very angry and she ordered one of her huntsmen to take Snow White into the forest and kill her; but the huntsman was kind and allowed Snow White to escape.

Snowdrop walked through the forest until she came to the house of seven little dwarfs. The dwarves were very happy to have Snow White live with them and look after them.

Unfortunately the Queen asked her mirror, "Mirror mirror on the wall, who is fairest of them all?"

and the mirror answered, "Snow White who lives with the 7 dwarves, is more beautiful than you."

The Queen knew Snow White was still alive.

She decided that Snow White must die so she dressed up like an old woman, and she went to the home of the seven Dwarfs and offered Snow White a beautiful apple. The apple was poisoned. The little princess took a bite of the apple and it stuck in her throat and she fell to the floor.

The dwarves came home and found Snow White. They were very sad and they made her a beautiful glass coffin.

The put Snow White in the coffin and were carrying her through the forest when they met a handsome prince. The prince instantly fell in love with Snow White and begged the dwarves to let him carry her coffin. The moment he touched the coffin, the apple fell from Snow White's mouth and she woke up. She was alive and well.

The prince asked her to marry him. She agreed and they planned a beautiful wedding.

The evil Queen went to the wedding without knowing it was Snow White who was marrying the prince. The evil Queen was so angry that she choked and died.

Snow White and her husband lived happily ever after.
