

with Jill Haywood

Vocabulary

Pet - mascota

Grass - herba

Wild - salvatge

Swing - gronxar

Scared - espantat

Eagle - àguila

Puppy - cadell

Gina's new pet by Jill Haywood

Gina wanted a pet.

The next day Gina asked her dad,

"Dad, can I have a cow please?"

"No Gina, they eat grass. We don't have enough grass in the garden."

Gina decided to ask her mum and dad for a giraffe.

"Mum can I have a giraffe for a pet please?"

"No Gina, they are too tall. They won't fit in the house."

The next day Gina asked her dad,

"Dad, can I have a hippo please?"

"No Gina, they are too big for the house."

The next day Gina asked her mum,

"Mum, can I have a fox please?"

"No Gina, foxes are wild animals. They can't live in a house."

The next day Gina asked her dad,

"Dad, can I have a monkey please?"

"No Gina, they live in the jungle. They need trees to swing in and play. They can't do that in the house."

The next day Gina asked her mum,

"Mum, can I have a dinosaur please?"

Her mum sighed, "No Gina, they are extinct."

The next day Gina asked her dad,
"Dad, can I have a tarantula please?"
"No Gina, your mum is scared of spiders."

The next day Gina asked her mum,
"Mum, can I have an eagle please?"
"No Gina, they need to fly. You can't keep an eagle in the house."

On Friday, Gina's mum and dad were sitting on the sofa and Gina stood in front of them, "Mum, Dad, can I have a puppy please? I would really love to have a little dog. I would call it 'Jessie' "

Gina's mum and dad looked at each other and then at Gina. They both smiled.
"Yes Gina. We will get you a puppy!"